KEVIN MILLER

- Kevin is a dynamic speaker with a focus on helping organizations build a healthy, dynamic workplace culture. As the North Dakota Male Athlete of the year, Division 1 All-American steeplechaser and Olympic Trials qualifier, Kevin's passion for winning in athletics migrated to the business world where he became a student of winning in leadership and management. Kevin has coached people to winning both on the track and in the workforce, and he integrates these principles into every training session.
- Kevin has taken his winning formula into the business world where it has proven extremely effective. His areas of responsibility had growth factors of 60%, 200%, 300%, and 500% in less than 5 years. These increases happened in not only dramatically different industries (construction, ag, oil & gas, food processing, mining and power), but also as a GM, sales manager, and engineering manager.
- Kevin's heart is to help managers and leaders achieve success in life and bypass the stress, burnout and failure that usually come with the job. Kevin has over 30 years of management experience and has been blessed to have trained under brilliant mentors at leading corporations throughout his journey.
- In his current role as President of ITCB Consulting, Kevin has had the honor to serve executive boards, CEOs, presidents and leaders, helping them discover new levels of winning and success for the teams they lead.
